

6 Work from Home Call Center Jobs

One of the most common questions I receive from other chronic illness warriors (and even those not suffering from a long term disease) are how to find legitimate work from home jobs online. If you suffer from something like lupus or fibromyalgia, you may have found yourself searching for ways to earn income without having to leave your home.

I have successfully earned a somewhat steady income from working different positions online over the last 6 years. Suffering from lupus, fibromyalgia, and trigeminal neuralgia makes it difficult for me to work a full time position. When having to work outside of the home, I waste a lot of energy on just getting ready in the mornings. This is something that people who do not have a chronic illness will probably never understand. To me, this is energy spent that could have been used for my work or family.

There are many jobs that will consider remote workers, but many of them are contract or part time positions. There have been many times that I have had to work a couple different projects to bring home a decent amount of money. I always try to remember the saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket".

If you have been struggling with your job or your job search and are considering working from home, you should definitely check out the legitimate positions below. These online jobs can help alleviate some of the stress that you may be experiencing.
